*The Senior Class
of
South Fulton High School
Proudly Presents
The '65 Devilier*

On our city's Southern border
Reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
As the years go by.

May we ever sing her praises,
Hold her standards high;
This our motto, old South Fulton,
Proudly do or die.

Dedication

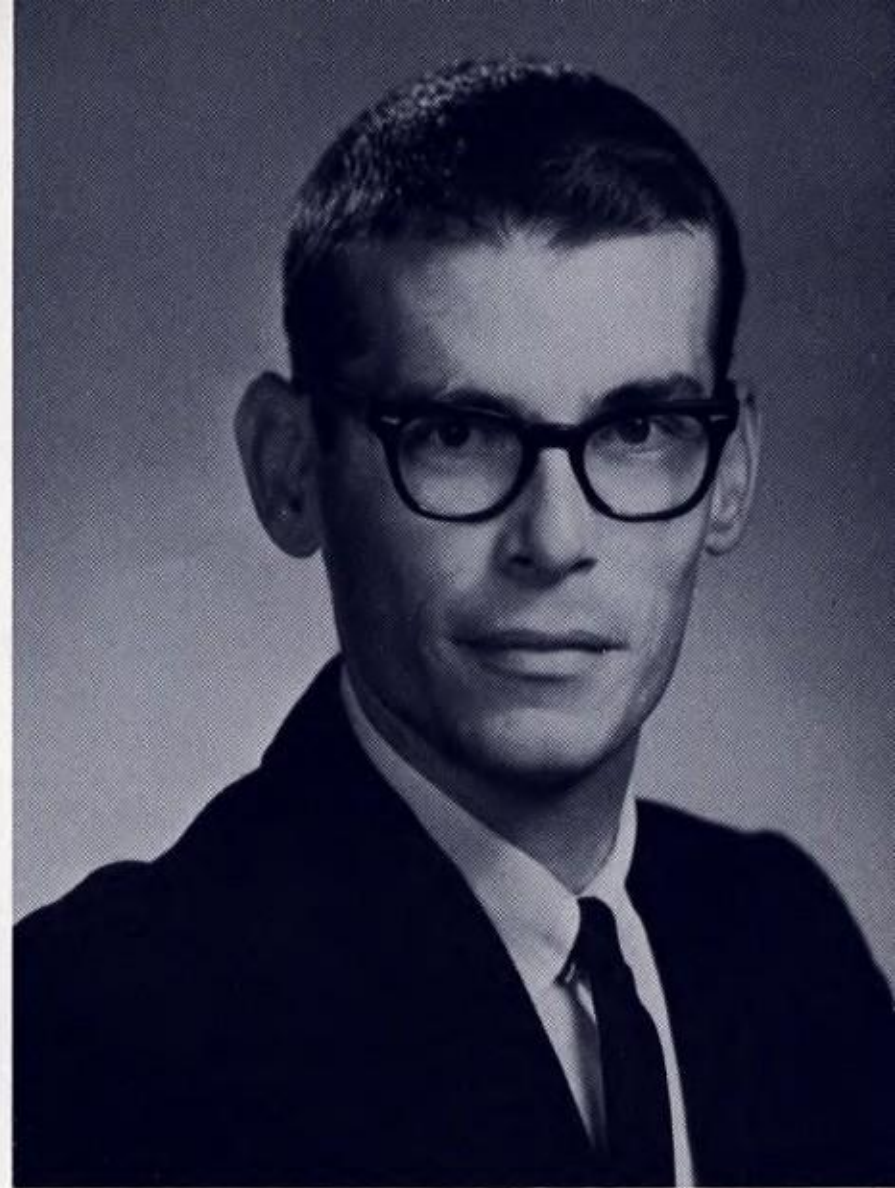

The Senior Class of 1965 is honored to dedicate this annual to one of our sponsors, Mrs. Cannon. Throughout our high school years, she has served our class as a sincere and dedicated teacher and friend. We feel that our annual, the most valuable thing we as a class can offer, is the best way we can express our thanks and appreciation to her.

MR. STRAUSS

Superintendent's Message

It is my hope and desire that every child be educated to the ultimate of his or her ability. For this to come about it takes a harmonious relationship between the home, school, and church.

Let us strive to have the best homes, best schools, and best churches in the nation for our children. This can only be accomplished by all of us working together and doing the very best we know how to do.

C. D. PARR
Superintendent of Obion County Schools

Principal's Message

I consider it a privilege and an honor to express my congratulations to the graduating class of South Fulton High School of 1965. I have had many of you in class or have worked with you in the office or in the other endeavors that you have undertaken. You have always exhibited hard work and intelligence in your undertakings.

I shall never forget the fine senior class of 1965, and my best wishes go to you, for you to have a successful life in a democratic society.

History of

We were finally freshmen!

The new building had been completed during the summer and was now ready for the sixty-two enthusiastic, fun-loving freshmen who were ready to occupy its halls for the next four years.

Although we were the typical "green" freshmen, we managed to make a place for ourselves among the older more seasoned upperclassmen. With boundless energy the freshmen eagerly participated on the student council, library staff, and Future Homemakers of America. Also the new Freshmen organized the school's first chapter of the Junior Classical League. Our class was especially pleased when a few freshmen boys got to go to State Tournament with the more sophisticated "men."

On the quieter side of our year, our class business was taken care of with our President Lynn Jetton surrounded by 6 willing? female officers and two women sponsors, Mrs. Virginia Cannon and Mrs. Sallie Ferguson.

With an added touch of confidence, seventy sophomores began the 1962-63 school year. Back with us were our sponsors, Mrs. Cannon and Mrs. Ferguson. Shouldering a little more responsibility the class progressed to another interesting year.

This year a sophomore won district recognition. Judy Neeley, first string forward on S.F.'s team, was chosen all-district best offensive player.

With the traditional slave auction, 9 sophomores were initiated in to the National Beta Club. School recognition had come to our scholastic achievements.

Being a sophomore was impressive, but like all other things, it had its set backs. Miss Cunningham proved to be just as hard in Latin II as she was in Latin I.

The girls were still in command as class officers consisted of 6 girls and 1 boy. Yet under this leadership, our sophomore year passed without incident.

Class of '65

Study, fun, and athletics proved to be the main subjects for the 77 students who entered the familiar hall of S.F. for their junior year.

Study paid off for several juniors who were again in the Beta Club and other scholastic activities.

The juniors also made a place for themselves in athletics. Our girls and boys on our basketball and football teams seemed to us the best players ever.

Once again the class shouldered responsibility in clubs and other school organizations. Two of our girls excelled in Future Homemakers work and earned the highest degree in this field for high school girls. We were very proud as each of these members of our class excelled. An example of this was two of our students who were elected to Girls' state and Boys' state.

With the selection of our rings and announcement of the new Devilier staff, we thought, "Just one more year."

We had made it. We were the "sophisticated" Seniors!

Corky Stinnett was elected to lead our class as President. Helping him and the other officers were our Sponsors, Mrs. Cannon, Mr. Ward, and Mr. Strauss.

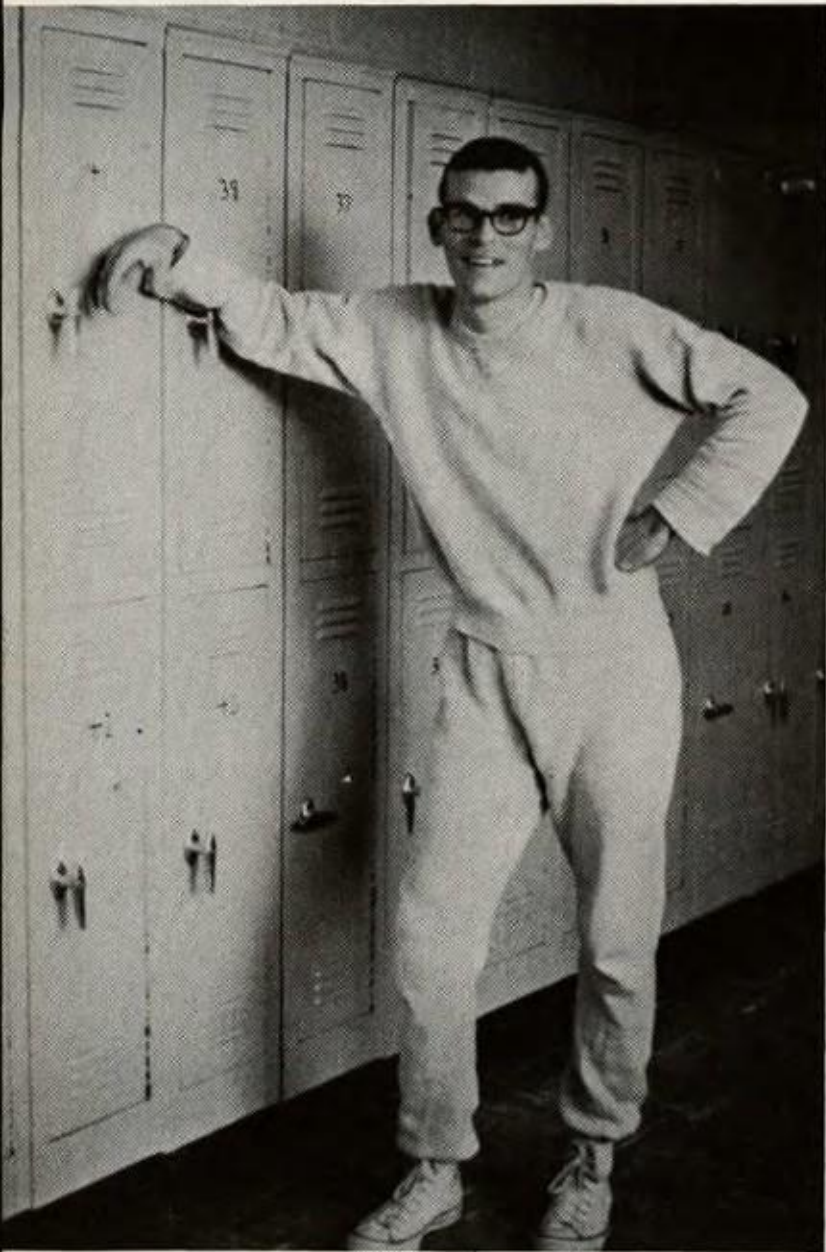

Many of our students received the highest honors of our school during their Senior year. Betty Malray and Carolyn Lucy were lovely as our football and basketball queens. Vava Finch was elected vice-president of the state-wide Future Homemakers of America. The entire student body honored two of our students when they elected Charles Colley and Betty Malray as Mr. and Miss South Fulton. Vava Finch became our valedictorian and Patricia Connell our salutatorian.

The day our rings arrived was a big letter day in our year. Proudly showing our rings to others we felt at last we had something definite to show that we were Seniors.

Yes, being a Senior was being happy and having fun and also being a Senior was knowing that this was our last year to be together as a class. Indeed, all these things make time fly for us. With these things we became honored enough to be SENIORS!

Chapter 3 THE BEGINNINGS IN THE UNITED STATES

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being as if the wave of some political magician's wand. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

Our English Heritage

French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegian, and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 1,500 miles along the Atlantic seaboard.

These early pioneers, who shared the wilderness and fought off the Indians, had to look out their own common future in the New World. But they came here to search for freedom and

The Colonial Period

When and they brought with them political ideas with them. They brought with them the ideas of a government and a society that had been working and developing in England for long centuries. These ideas were to be the basis of the new government in the United States. They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is not all-powerful; that government is limited in what it may do, and, especially, that it is limited in the sense of which are to be found today—county, borough, jury, sheriff, coroner, and justice of the peace, for example. And all of these were well-known in England long before the first Englishman ever landed in America.

Early Americans had to live together in harmony, or they would not survive. This was called "government in order to live," the beginning of our government today.

(1) The Twin Concepts of Limited Government and Civil Liberties. They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is not all-powerful; that government is limited in what it may do, and, especially, that it is limited in the sense that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

(2) The Concept of Representative Government. A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. For centuries there had been developing in England the
